--From a 2009 Zero to Three Study

Evansville residents Kallie and her husband have two boys, William (3) and Ayden (6 months). They attended the Exchange Family Resource Center playgroup where it was suspected that William had speech delays. A screening was done, and he was referred to the Birth to Three program through CESA II.

A speech therapist now comes to their home to assist William. And through Exchange, Kallie and William attend a speech-focused session once a week designed to help young children in early childhood programs in transition to elementary school and the community.

Kallie has seen 100% improvement in William's speech and interaction with others.
